

Goldwater Questions Nuclear Ban

By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater launches his campaign for the White House tonight after vowing that if he gets there and finds it "to our advantage" he will renounce the limited nuclear test ban treaty.

The Arizona senator, his sights trained on the Republican presidential nomination, makes his first speech as a candidate tonight before a GOP fete-dinner in Grand Rapids, Mich.

Tuesday he turns to the top target in his Hampshire. Goldwater plans to spend three days there, campaigning Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday for votes in the March 10 presidential primary, the nation's first of 1964.

Goldwater got in a dig Sunday night at his only announced rival for the nomination, New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

"Gov. Rockefeller is used to giving money away and I'm not the difference."

Goldwater said in calling revision of the U.N. charter to force its members to pay their dues or lose their votes.

Goldwater also took a crack at President Johnson, calling his government economy drive a show with little substance.

"He is putting up a good front," the senator said. "The neon lights are blinking and the tilt balls are rolling, but he is not an economist."

Goldwater, one of 19 senators who voted against ratification of the treaty that outlaws nuclear tests in the atmosphere, under water and in outer space, said in the NBC television interview program "Meet the Press" that his vote on the test ban was sound.

119 Million State Bill for Schools

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arkansas will spend $119,106,000 to educate the 444,500 youngsters enrolled in its public schools in 1963-64, the National Education Association (NEA) reported today.

The NEA's annual report on school statistics showed Arkansas' average teacher's salary is $4,031, 49th among the 50 states. Only Mississippi is lower with a $3,830 average. The national average is $5,963.

The report showed Arkansas is spending $302 a year per pupil for education. This places the state 44th among the 50. The national average is $455.

The report estimated that the nation will spend $21 billion to educate the 41.7 million youngsters enrolled in the public schools.

Total expenditure for the 1962-63 school year was $19.7 billion. The report showed there are 26,814,754 pupils enrolled in public elementary schools, 14,907,911 enrolled in public high schools and 35,000 unclassified enrollees in grades kindergarten through 12.

Due to the ever increasing work load of the Driver's License Division of the Arkansas State Police, it is necessary to reschedule driver testing so that the load will be more equal. In making these schedule changes some people will be inconvenienced.

Effective February 1, 1964 driver's tests will be given in Hope at the courthouse from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. on the 2nd and 4th Tuesday of each month.

Boston Has 11th Case of Strangling

BOSTON (AP) — Fingerprints in the apartment of Mary Ellen Sullivan, 19, apparently offer the only solid clue to the 11th unsolved sex strangling in this area since June 1962.

Miss Sullivan's nude body was found Saturday night in her second-floor apartment at the foot of Boston's Beacon Hill. Like the victims in the other 10 unsolved cases, she had been sexually molested.

The fingerprints were sent to Washington for check with FBI files.

Detectives made a house-to-house check of the Beacon Hill area Sunday, seeking information which might lead them to the killer who throttled Miss Sullivan with a nylon stocking and two nylon scarves.

Miss Sullivan, a clerk in a Boston finance company, moved into the apartment Jan. 1. Two other women shared the apartment with her. She had been living in Whitman, Mass.

The manner of Miss Sullivan's slaying bore many similarities to the 10 other unsolved stranglings. Only one woman had been strangled manually. The others were killed with articles of clothing, usually stockings.

All 11 deaths occurred within some 20 miles of Boston.

High Court Hearing on Lawyers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court scheduled today a review of an order by Justice George Rose Smith under which two Memphis attorneys were released from the Pulaski County Jail Saturday.

The court was to take up the matter after hearing scheduled oral arguments in other pending cases.

A court spokesman said the matter was not likely to be decided before noon. It will be taken up in the private conference of the justices and any decision will be announced.

The attorneys, Bernard M. Rosen and James O. Garner, were jailed on contempt of court charges Friday by Circuit Judge Guy Amsler.

The contempt order said the attorneys alleged a jury had been stacked against them prior to the trial Dec. 19 of a damage suit. They were jailed without bond and Amsler said he believed the offense was not bandable.

Smith's order overturned Amsler's order.

Millionaire Is Slain on West Coast

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Police today probed the slaying of multimillionaire William W. Bartholomae, seeking to unravel the chain of events that left him stabbed to death in the blood-spattered kitchen of his luxurious bayfront home.

Booked on suspicion of murdering the 70-year-old yachtsman was his brother's wife, Carmen Gallardo Bartholomae, 25, a former Spanish dancer.

Hospitalized with a severely cut hand was Carmen's sister, Minola Gallardo, 32.

Bartholomae, whose cattle, oil and mining fortune was estimated at $11 million, was found Sunday morning with two stab wounds in his abdomen.

On the floor beside him was his sister-in-law, who later told police she had fainted.

Between them lay the blood-smeared blade of an eight-inch butcher knife.

Police said Carmen gave this account:

When Bartholomae, wearing a bathrobe and pajamas, entered the kitchen, Carmen was standing at the kitchen sink preparing breakfast.

"He didn't look good," she said.

She said she remembers holding two knives and seeing Bartholomae "tumbling" before she fainted.

She remembers nothing more until she awoke later in a hospital.

Informed that Bartholomae had died, Carmen told Police Chief James Glavas:

"He was such a good man. He was so good to Charles and me."

Carmen was hospitalized under police guard.

Adding to the mystery was a coroner's report which said that Bartholomae, in addition to the stab wounds, had numerous scratches, "possibly from fingernails," on his neck, face, arms, hands and chest.

Police could offer no motive immediately for the slaying.

Rain Falls in Parts of Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A band of light rain slanted across Arkansas today — giving the state its first measurable precipitation of the new year.

The Weather Bureau said the rain extended diagonally from Helena to El Dorado and up to one inch was recorded. Little or no rain fell in the northwestern and extreme western sections of the state.

The Weather Bureau said cooler, drier air would dominate Arkansas weather tonight and Tuesday, but increasing cloudiness and rain were expected Wednesday. Some of the rain may reach Northwest Arkansas late Tuesday.

A mass of cold air is firmly anchored north of Arkansas, and though there may be frequent rain this week, temperatures will stay mild.

High temperatures Sunday were generally in the mid 50s and overnight lows in the 30s and 40s.

Clear Way for Taylor and Burton

NEW YORK (AP) — Lawyers for Elizabeth Taylor, Richard Burton and Eddie Fisher confer here today on steps to clear the way for Miss Taylor and Burton to marry.

Attorneys Milton Rudin of Los Angeles and Aaron Frosch of New York who had been meeting with Liz and Richard in Puerto Vallarta, Mexico, left there Sunday for New York to discuss the situation with Fisher's attorney, Louis Nizer.

Fisher has expressed desire to expedite a divorce from Miss Taylor.

Arcadio Estrada, a civil court judge in Puerto Vallarta, said the lack of a financial agreement between Miss Taylor and Fisher "is what is holding up the divorce."

Rudin said plans for Miss Taylor to file suit in Puerto Vallarta with or without Fisher's consent have been abandoned.

"Without his consent," Rudin said, "there could be months of litigation." And even with his consent, he added, it would be at least two weeks before she and Burton could be married.

"There's at least that much time needed to file and get the divorce," he explained.

Burton has been on movie location in Puerto Vallarta, with Miss Taylor constantly at his side.

Burton's wife, Sybil, recently got a Mexican divorce.

2 Are Slain in Magnolia Death Pact

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Mrs. Joy Dennis, 5, of Magnolia and John P. Mills, 36, of El Dorado, both Negroes, were shot to death early Sunday at Mrs. Dennis' Magnolia home.

Deputy Columbia County Coroner Dick Henry ruled the deaths murder and suicide. Police Chief James Cleaver said Mrs. Dennis and Mills got into an argument and Mills shot her with a .32-caliber pistol, then turned the gun on himself.

Mrs. Dennis was separated from her husband. Cleaver said several children were sleeping upstairs when the shooting took place.

Their deaths brought to 15 the number of persons who died violent deaths in Arkansas during the week ended at midnight Sunday.

Eight persons died in traffic accidents, two drowned, one died in a fire, one in a hunting accident, one in an industrial accident and two by murder-suicide.

Faubus Hints at Try for 6th Term

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today he has not yet made up his mind whether to seek a sixth term.

But, he said in a television interview, "I might not tell you my plans if I had made up my mind."

Faubus appeared on Arkansas Radio and KTHV in Little Rock. He was questioned by KTHV newsmen Dick Lawrence and Bob Hicks.

Faubus closed the interview with a remark that indicated he will be a candidate for re-election this year.

When the newsmen thanked him for coming, he said, "I might want to be invited often. I understand this doesn't cost anything."

Faubus indicated for the first time that he has given serious consideration to running for Congress if either Rep. J. W. Trimble or one of the senators decides not to seek re-election.

He was asked specifically if he might seek Sen. John L. McClellan's position if McClellan decides not to run again in 1966.

"I've stated many times that I'd be interested in Congress if a place becomes open," Faubus said. "I might have run in the third district if Congressman Trimble had decided not to seek re-election."

Faubus then was asked if he felt it was necessary to remain in the governor's office until such time as he might make a race for Congress.

He said no.

"Actually, I might be stronger if I spent two years outside the governor's office," he said.

Faubus said at least nine men have talked to him about the possibility of running for governor if he steps aside.

He named Revenue Commissioner J. Orville Cheney; state Sen. William Ingram of West Memphis; James Gooch, an Arkadelphia attorney; James T. Karam, a Little Rock clothier; W. R. Stephens, president of Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co.; Sheriff Robert Moore of Desha County; state Sen. Olen Hendrix of Prescott; and Supreme Court Justices Frank Holt and Jim Johnson.

In addition, Faubus said, he has heard Vernon Whitten, Sid McMath and Dale Alford, three of his 1962 opponents, and state

A group of local Republican will meet with Winthrop Rockefeller on Jan. 13 to discuss state wide plans.

Hotel Astor Is Set Afire by Arsonist

NEW YORK (AP) — An arsonist set a fire that swept the Astor Hotel's grand ballroom today, then he fled when chased by hotel employees, officials said.

About 400 guests left their rooms as heavy smoke poured through the 11-story hotel, a Times Square area landmark. Damage was estimated at $1 million.

There were no injuries.

Fire Commissioner Edward Thompson said the fire was definitely set.

"We have two witnesses who actually saw the man start the fire, and we have a good description of him," Thompson said. "These witnesses chased the man but they lost him."

Police described the firebug as being between 30 and 35 years old, about 6 feet tall and wearing a trench coat and glasses.

The fire apparently began in draperies along the empty ballroom's lower balcony.

Thompson said the arsonist apparently used "a device to spread the flames." He did not elaborate.

The fire broke out about midnight.

Each participant is on his own, and he may do as much or as little as he desires.

Anyone desiring further information about the program may contact Wesley Huddleston or Mitch LaGrone.

Car Kills Pedestrian on U.S. 70

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thomas Lipsmeyer, 21, of Little Rock was fatally injured Sunday night when struck by a car as he walked on U.S. Highway 70 about 12 miles east of Forrest City.

State Trooper Robert Gill said the car, driven by Charles R. Burris, 58, of Little Rock, was passing another car when it struck Lipsmeyer.

Gill said he had not determined why Lipsmeyer was walking on the highway. He was given emergency treatment at a Forrest City hospital, then taken to a Memphis hospital, where he died at midnight.

His death brought to 16 the number of persons who died violently in Arkansas during the week ended at midnight Sunday.

C. C. Banquet Scheduled January 16

The Chamber of Commerce annual meeting and banquet will be held Thursday evening, January 16, at 7 p. m. at the Barlow Hotel. Tickets will go on sale this week and will be available through the ticket sales chairman, W. L. Tate and Tom Ed Hays. The Chamber of Commerce office will also have a supply of them.

Price of the tickets will be $2.50 each and Chamber President Bill Gunter states that only 175 will be available to local residents, due to lack of space.

Speaker for the occasion will be Colonel Carl C. Hinkle Jr., the new executive director of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission. Colonel Hinkle, who recently retired from the Air Force as commander of the Little Rock Air Force Base, began his new job January 1.

Approximately 25 out-of-town guests have been invited to this affair and the Chamber of Commerce office reports 14 have already indicated that they will be in attendance. Local residents are urged to get their tickets early.

Rocky Irked by 'Me Too' Allegation

By ROBERT T. GRAY
Associated Press Writer

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says that if the Republican party nominates him for president, he will offer voters a clear alternative to Democratic party philosophy.

"There are fundamental conference democratic views," he said in reply to a charge by Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona that Rockefeller is a "me-too" candidate.

Rockefeller and Goldwater are the only declared candidates for the Republican nomination.

Goldwater announced his candidacy Friday and opened his campaign by saying Rockefeller's views sound more like a Democratic platform than Republican philosophy.

Goldwater, chief spokesman for GOP conservatives, said no other Republican candidate — meaning Rockefeller — could offer voters a genuine alternative to the Democratic administration of President Johnson.

Rockefeller, who resumed his campaign in the New Hampshire presidential preference primary over the weekend, told a news conference in Concord: "I don't think that 'me-too' label has any application to me. I think that will bring 3 political statements on his part."

Goldwater begins his New Hampshire campaign officially Tuesday.

His assertion that Rockefeller espouses a New Frontier philosophy could become an issue in New Hampshire where Republican ranks include a substantial bloc of conservative.

Tedford, Pioneer Car Dealer, Dies

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — William L. Tedford, 93, of Little Rock, the state's first automobile distributor, died Sunday at a Little Rock hospital. Tedford's first dealership was for the Cadillac, Overland and Stanley Steamer. He held the state automobile speed record in 1906 with 48 miles an hour. Tedford is survived by his widow, a son, two grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

Presidential Message Due Wednesday

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson was back at his White House desk today, preparing for what may be a grueling January-to-December job: trying to get Congress to enact his legislative program.

Johnson will fire his opening salvo Wednesday when he outlines his objectives in a State of the Union message. He is expected to urge the passage of key elements of the Kennedy administration program carried over from the last session — civil rights, tax reduction and health care for the elderly — and add some requests of his own.

Relaxed after a 12-day work-and-play vacation at his Texas ranch, the President scheduled a conference with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and McGeorge Bundy, presidential adviser on national security affairs.

In his first days in office, Johnson was pretty much immune from political criticism. But now that the moratorium which followed President John F. Kennedy's assassination is over, political criticism is once more in vogue.

Johnson has promised economy in government without hampering the nation's space and defense efforts. Legislators will want to know how he intends to manage this.

In the last days at his ranch the chief executive put in long hours on a budget that he has said will be in the neighborhood of $100 billion and on his State of the Union message. How these are received may indicate how much cooperation the one-time Senate Democratic leader is likely to get from his former congressional colleagues.

Auburn Has First Negro Student

AUBURN, Ala. (AP)—A Negro graduate student attended his first class today at Auburn University. His appearance for a Russian history class was marked by the same air of routine procedure which was evident when he arrived Saturday.

The school's first Negro student, Harold A. Franklin, strode up the walk to Sanford Hall at 10 a.m. while a few state and city policemen watched from a distance. He walked past about a dozen students on the steps and went inside the building.

Everything appeared entirely normal and routine on the sprawling campus as the segregation barriers tumbled.

Franklin, 31, registered without incident Saturday. He spent a quiet weekend at his dormitory. A university spokesman said the 6-foot Franklin had several visitors, including some white students.

"Everything is fine," Franklin told an Associated Press reporter who telephoned him Sunday night.

Four Auburn students were suspended Sunday after state troopers caught them removing campus signs warning unauthorized persons to keep off the grounds.

Franklin got a dormitory room under an order issued Friday by U.S. District Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. in Montgomery. The judge ordered Auburn to provide campus housing for Franklin. Johnson earlier had directed the state university to admit Franklin to its graduate school.

Segregation at Games Is Held Invalid

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court affirmed today a decision striking down a Louisiana law requiring segregation of races at entertainment and athletic contests open to the public.

The decision was given by a special three-judge U.S. District Court in New Orleans.

The district court also held that the New Orleans branch of the NAACP had a right to use the municipal auditorium in New Orleans on the same terms as any other organization.

Mayor Victor H. Schiro of New Orleans and other city officials appealed to the Supreme Court, asking reversal of the District Court.

The high tribunal, in a brief order, noted that it was upholding the judgment of the special federal court in New Orleans.

The special court in ruling against the state and city requirements cited various decisions by the Supreme Court in earlier racial cases. Included in the citations was a 1963 decision that "it is no longer open

Faubus Hints

Rep. Hardy Croxton of Benton County are thinking about running although they have not discussed their plans with him.

Faubus also said there has been a "great deal of thought" that Winthrop Rockefeller may run for governor on the Republican ticket.

"My polls show that Rockefeller would beat the tar out of somebody like Croxton," Faubus said.

As a matter of fact, Faubus said, few of the potential Democratic candidates in a field without Faubus would stand a chance of beating Rockefeller.

"It would depend entirely on how the Democratic candidate handled himself in the race," he said.

Reviewing 1963, Faubus said it had been one of his quietest years and he predicted that 1964 might be the finest year in Arkansas history unless some national catastrophe such as war spoils the picture.

Faubus was asked about a report from Washington that the target date for completion of the Arkansas River navigation program might be extended two years to 1972. "If this is done in the interest of balancing the budget, I say fine," Faubus said. He added that it might be sound economic practice to spread the cost over a few more years to avoid red ink spending at the federal level. "After all, we've waited so many years for this navigation program, we could wait two more," he said.

But the governor said he does not feel that a Defense Department decision to close Ft. Chaffee was in the genuine interest of economy. At one time, he said he would endorse the Chaffee closing if it were a genuine economy move.

"But it seems that the decision to eliminate Chaffee was made more for publicity than for economy," he said. "Chaffee was the only major installation eliminated. They could have saved more money by reducing costs at each existing installation by 10 per cent than by the elimination of those they cut out. In this light, the people of Fort Smith have a right to ask that the decision to close Ft. Chaffee be reconsidered."

Asked about a statement by the Arkansas Council on Human Relations criticizing racial relations in Arkansas, Faubus said: "If you'll look into the history of that organization, you'll find that it was organized originally as a communist front," Faubus said. "Those people will bring on a race war. They are trying to stir up the Negro, telling him that he is being discriminated against. That group is dangerous."

Faubus said he would not change any racial policies of the state government because of suggestions from the council.

Race Issue May Return to Politics

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Council on Human Relations was told Saturday that race relations should be returned from the courts and streets to politics.

Dr. Leslie W. Dunbar of Atlanta, executive director of the Southern Regional Council, told the Council at a Little Rock, meeting that white Southerners have a choice of integration or madness.

The council passed resolutions urging abandonment of the administrative use of the Arkansas Pupil Placement laws, establishment of a firm policy of including Negro students in all school activities in integrated schools and the initiation of plans to end the present dual school system based on race.

The council praised the University of Arkansas for taking steps toward desegregation early but said it deplored the institution's "continuing failure to extend equal treatment to Negro students in certain areas of university life, notably housing and intercollegiate athletics."

Other resolutions urged equality for Negroes in employment and manpower training fields and establishment of a "com-

Feels Barry Likely to Be G.O.P. Pick

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

William L. Spicer of Fort Smith, chairman of the Arkansas State Republican committee, said Saturday he thought Sen. Barry Goldwater R-Ariz. would get the Republican presidential nomination.

Spicer said the opinion was his own and not that of the state GOP.

And Winthrop Rockefeller, Republican National Committeeman from Arkansas, said he was "delighted" that Goldwater would be a candidate.

Rockefeller's brother, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York, will oppose Goldwater for the nomination.

Winthrop Rockefeller said

Shoots at Deer But Kills Man

MORRILLTON, Ark. (AP)—A disabled veteran who went deer hunting in a wheel chair was charged with involuntary manslaughter today in the shooting death of another hunter.

George Lowe of Morrilton, the veteran, went free on $2,000 bond after the charge was filed.

State Police Sgt. W. A. Tudor said Lowe told him he fired three shots at a deer from an M-1 Carbine while seated in his wheel chair Saturday.

Lee Hogue, 40, a farmer, was struck by a rifle bullet while standing in the bed of a pickup truck to fire at the same deer.

A coroner's jury ruled that Hogue died from a bullet fired by Lowe. James Bennett, who was with Lowe, fired at the deer with a shotgun.

Goldwater's decision would "help clarify the issues and would allow us to start preparing for the general election" next fall.

He said he would support the national party nominee named at the Republican national convention. Rockefeller and Spicer will attend a meeting of the Republican national committee in Washington Wednesday through Saturday.

Chases Thief and Nails Him

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Edward A. Ellis, 42, woke up Sunday morning and heard someone prowling through his apartment. Wearing only his undershorts, Ellis chased the burglar into the street.

The robber dropped Ellis wallet, hoping it would lure him to stop. It didn't.

The thief got to Biscayne Boulevard, one of Miami's main streets, and hailed a cab, with Ellis only a few steps behind.

Driver Henry Simpson, a retired police officer, calmly drove his passenger to the nearest squad car. Marion Anderson, 28, was charged with burglary.

Bandit Stops for Prayer Service

ATLANTA (AP)—Robert Lee Pruitt, 36-year-old father of eight, was being taken to jail on two charges of armed robbery when he asked officers to let him stop at his home to hold a prayer service with his family.

Detective Capt. E. E. Peppers said Sunday he and patrolman J. T. Newsome "decided to take a chance" after Pruitt said the family held prayer service each night.

Peppers said the two officers waited in the living room while the family assembled and participated in the service. After it was over, Pruitt was escorted to jail.

Pruitt, asked by the officers why he had twice held up a grocery store near his suburban East Point home, replied: "I don't know."

Attorneys Are Freed by High Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Supreme Court Justice George Rose Smith ordered Memphis Attorneys Bernard M. Rosen and James O. Garner, who were jailed on contempt of court charges Friday, released Saturday.

His action overturned a ruling by Pulaski Circuit Judge Guy Amsler, who issued the contempt order saying the attorneys alleged a jury had been stacked against them prior to the trial Dec. 19 of a damage suit. They were jailed without bond. Amsler said he believed their offense was not bondable.

Smith granted Edwin E. Dunaway of Little Rock, attorney for Rosen and Garner, a writ stating that the lawyers were denied their rights to a fair and impartial hearing in the contempt conviction.

The two posted $1,000 bonds set by Smith and returned to Memphis.

Dunaway said a copy of the petition requesting a hearing would be given Amsler today. The jury was not told of the charges and ruled in favor of the plaintiff. Rosen and Garner were defense attorneys in the case.

In a hearing Friday, Dunaway said Garner and Rosen made the charges as a result of a misunderstanding in a telephone conversation with a Little Rock lawyer.

Two Little Rock lawyers testified at the hearing and Amsler ruled no punitive action would be taken against them.

Eva Gabor Swears Off Jewelry

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Eva Gabor has sworn off jewelry.

At least, that's what she said Sunday after her release from a Miami Beach hospital, where she was treated for concussion and bruises suffered in a scrap with a couple of bandits at her home Saturday night. They got away with a ring which Miss Gabor said was worth $25,000—and wasn't insured.

Miss Gabor, 42, told newsmen she was roughed up when one of the robbers "pointed a gun at me and I went to whack him."

New Device Stimulates Bad Heart

CONWAY, Ark. (AP)—In December Harry R. Adams of Conway didn't expect to live much more than six months. Today a relatively new device which regulates heartbeat, has returned Adams to good health and he is looking forward to going back to work.

Adams, who was 64 Saturday, began having fainting spells in November. The spells got more frequent and doctors diagnosed his trouble as a heart block.

His heartbeat was 26-27 per minute, and stimulants could bring it up to only 38, far below the normal of about 70.

Surgery was ordered, and on the day after Christmas physicians at the University of Arkansas Medical Center and Hospital in Little Rock put a battery-operated device into his

Carl Sandburg's 86th Birthday

FLAT ROCK, N.C. (AP) — Carl Sandburg, winner of the Pulitzer Prize in history and poetry, plans to lay aside his pencil for a moment today, his birthday, "and make a little address to God, thanking Him for the 86 years."

Then, said Sandburg, he'll go back to work on the second volume of his autobiography and perhaps on some poetry.

It will be a quiet day on Sandburg's farm near Flat Rock, N.C.

Donahue Weds Miss Pleshette

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Troy Donahue, 27, and actress Suzanne Pleshette, 25, were married by a judge who said he hoped they "retain humor, frankness, and above all, patience."

The ceremony was performed body to speed up the heart beat. Called a Pacer maker, the watch-size device was inserted just below the skin of Adams' lower abdomen. Wires run up his side, over a rib and to his heart. Electrical impulses flow through the wires, causing Adams' heart to beat (contract) 68 times per minute.

Adams, once an auto dealer and a teacher, had been working for a concrete products firm before his illness. He hopes to return soon.

The device's batteries last five years, and there is another apparatus called a frequency emitter by which the pace of the electrical impulses (and thus the heartbeat) can be increased or decreased.

"(The illness) happened so quickly, and was repaired so quickly," Adams said, "I don't suppose I had time to realize the gravity of it."

By Helen Worden Erskine
Dear Helen: Here am I, a widower with grown sons and daughters, acting like a moon-eyed calf. I'm madly in love with a widow who once cared but now plays it cool. We dated for more than a year then—pfft! She lost interest. Day and night this gal is in my thoughts.

We share the same tastes, have a sense of humor and like a good time. But I miss the joy and comfort only a wife can give. The 30 years with my late wife were all too short. In fact our marriage was so happy I felt more than willing to take a second chance.

Not so this widow. Once I mentioned marriage she shied off. Each time I ask why she seems reluctant to explain why. Just leaves me dangling in mid-air.

I'm not bad to look at, enjoy a good position in this community and own a very profitable business. The lady has a fine position, a car and nice home. Her children and grandchildren live in another city. Her virtues are many and I'm sure we could be more than reasonably happy together. However, I realize that many problems can arise in second marriages and maybe this is what she fears.

Should I tell her how miserable I am? Would it help to assure her that she could still have her independence, keep her own car and visit her relatives as much as she wished, even though married to me? How insisting upon her giving me the real reason for her hesitation?

I have no intention of begging

Saturday in a Beverly Hills hotel.

Donahue met Miss Pleshette while working on a film.

for her favors for at all costs I must preserve my dignity and self-respect but life without her holds nothing for me. What do you think of my future chances for rekindling her interest? — Lovesick

Dear Lovesick: Your chances are good provided you too play it cool. Knowing you're as good as hooked, she's lost interest.

Give her a little competition. Exchange the role of suitor for that of friend and counselor. Make no promises. Stress the fact that she's free as the wind and so are you. Let a fair amount of time elapse before calling her then, when you do, be impersonal.

Absence makes the heart grow fonder. If possible, take a glamorous vacation; either to some winter resort or on a cruise ship and don't tell her about it until the last moment.

In other words, keep her guessing, just as she has you and above all, don't tip your hand. That's been your major mistake but, if you play your cards as I advise, it need not be fatal. My leaflet, "The Way to a Girl's Heart" applies to all ages. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for it.

Dear Helen: I was first in our family until my sister came along. She can leave the dishes undone but I have to do them when my turn comes, or else. In the end I wind up also doing her chores. Shouldn't I, the older daughter, have more privileges than the younger? We're both in high—I am upper classman, she a lower classman. Yet our mother treats me like a prisoner and she the warden. —Ulcer

Dear Ulcer: Your nose is out of joint because you had the center of the stage until your sister came along. I've seen it happen in my own family. Shake that chip off your shoulder. Try doing your work—and your sister's if needs be—with good humor. That old saw, "Laugh and the world laughs with you, weep and you weep alone," is still true. Put it to practice and see your world change for the better.

Dear Helen: My girl friend and I write two boys whom we love very much. Their replies are short and stuffy. Are they trying to avoid answering us? Should we continue to correspond or give them up as lost causes? We are both 18 and finishing our last year in high school. The boys graduated last year. —Two Girls in Love

Dear Two: The average male is a mighty poor correspondent so don't measure your boy friends' affection by the quality of their letters. However, on general principles, they, not you, should be the ones to pour out their hearts on paper. Cut down on the length and quantity of your letters and await developments.

Have you a problem? Perhaps Helen Worden Erskine can help you. Write her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

THE TWISTED SABER

A novel about BENEDICT ARNOLD by PHILIP VAIL
© 1962 by Philip Vail
Distributed by Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

THE TWISTED SABER

Every officer on the field knew that nightfall would force both sides to suspend operations. The British continued to hold firm only on the inner portion of their left wing where they had built their strongest barricades and had supported their infantry with cannon.

For the first time since Benedict had entered the action, he and Livingston halted. A heated enemy cannonball plowed a furrow in the earth no more than 15 feet to their right. The horses pawed the ground nervously but Benedict seemed unaware of the near miss.

Varick rode forward and saluted. "I found two regiments of New Yorkers, sir!" he called. "They're the last of the uncommitted units."

"They're just what we need," Benedict beckoned impatiently and the men started to run. "Fix your bayonets!" he shouted.

The charge was the most daring he had made. Enemy cannonballs were falling all around him, but he galloped so rapidly that she went through the ranks of Dearborn's and Morgan's regiments and did not halt until he was only a few yards from the 10-foot wall of stones and logs that faced him.

An enemy marksman killed his horse, and as Benedict threw himself out of the saddle, he felt an excruciating pain in his leg. He tried to stand, but his leg would not support him. He collapsed in a heap.

A score of soldiers surrounded him, but he waved them away. "Take that wall," he told them. "Don't stop now."

As they obeyed, he made an attempt to sit up in order to see the action more clearly. Gradually the rifle and musket fire became less intense, as Continentals and militiamen disappeared through holes in the barricade.

He watched the sky grow darker. For a short time he dozed; he awoke to see Colonel Dearborn and a group of younger officers bending over him. "What's happened to Burgoyne?" Benedict asked through clenched teeth.

He's retreating as fast as he can run, General.

It is very quiet in the corridor of the military hospital in Albany. Major General Philip Schuyler opened the door of the private room at one end of the ward.

You've been a very sick man, General Arnold. You lost a considerable quantity of blood, but the operation was successful. The bullet was removed from your leg.

"I watched them take it out, Sr."

"So the surgeons told me. I know you'll be cheered to learn that Lord Burgoyne has surrendered his entire army to Gates."

"Was a third battle fought?" No, you finished Burgoyne at sixteen injured.

Sixteen of the occupants were men, most of them veterans of World War I.

Rumor Blass of L.R. May Be Sold

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Negotiations for the sale of the Blass stores at Little Rock and Pine Bluff were revealed by R Julian Blass, president, Thursday.

Blass was questioned about rumors that William Dillard of Tulsa, Okla., who recently bought the Pfeifers of Arkansas stores in Little Rock and Hot Springs, was trying to buy Blass.

Dillard said he had no comment on the rumor, but said "I certainly haven't" bought the store. Blass declined to say who was negotiating to buy the store.

He said no one had tried to buy his 12 per cent stock holding in the company, but that some holders of the other 88 per cent had been contacted.

The company operates a seven-floor downtown Little Rock department store and a branch store in Pine Bluff. It recently announced plans for an other branch store in a Little Rock shopping center.

Value of the Blass property is not known. Sale price of the Pfeiffer property was not announced, but Dillard said several million dollars were involved.

Although Benedict was elated, he could not forget Horatio Gates. "The official report will carry more weight than a testimonial."

"Men of Gates' caliber are too eager to snatch glory from others, so they make mistakes." The old man smiled sadly.

"Gates has earned a share of the credit, but he was so fearful it would be denied him that he didn't send his report to the Commander-in-Chief. Instead he wrote directly to the Continental Congress."

"The fool."

"Quite true, General Arnold. No man in this world is fairer or more honorable than George Washington, but he won't forgive or forget this deliberate slight. Gates may have friends in Congress, but Washington has many more. I've already heard rumors that Gates will be relieved of active command and given some post where he can do little harm."

Cigarettes Blamed for 70% Cancer

NEW YORK (AP) — New York City's commissioner of health, Dr. George James, reports that cigarette smoking was responsible for 70 per cent of the 2,238 lung cancer deaths among men in the city in 1963.

He said Wednesday the percentage figure is an estimate based on findings by the American Cancer Society on death rates from lung cancer in urban areas.

The American tobacco industry, which has financed extensive scientific research on the subject, contends that no connection between smoking and lung cancer has been proved.

Weather Signals Short-Circuited

KANSAS CITY (AP) — If you believed the weather beacon atop an office building Thursday night, the forecast was for clear, stormy, snowy, clear, stormy, snowy.

The beacon which indicates those conditions with green, red and white lights—in that order—was flashing them in sequence.

It was an electrical mixup—but not as bad as the one a few years ago when on a hot summer night the light indicated snow.

San Diego Is Champion of American

By CHARLES MAHER
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The San Diego Chargers have established to the eminent satisfaction of most precincts, and to the acute dissatisfaction of Boston, that they are the finest team in the American Football League.

And San Diego Coach Sid Gillman declared Sunday-after the Chargers won their first AFL title by demolishing Boston 51-10 that his club wouldn't disgrace itself in a game with the National AFL Football League champions.

To which AFL Commissioner Joe Foss added that a football World Series between the AFL and NFL champions may be only a year or two away.

For the present, the suggestion that the Chargers are ready for the Chicago Bears is likely to provoke nothing more than an interminable debate. But it was clear Sunday that the Chargers were ready for something substantially better than Boston.

The Chargers gained 610 yards rushing and passing, San Diego's Keith Lincoln in the greatest performance ever given by an AFL running back, made 206 yards as a rusher, 123 more as a pass receiver and 20 as a passer. That gave him the astonishing sum of 349 yards gained in a single game and made him almost the unanimous choice as the game's outstanding player.

Foss, asked about the possibility of a title game between the AFL and NFL champions, told The Associated Press:

"It wouldn't surprise me if such a game were to come about within a year or two. And it wouldn't surprise me if we started playing exhibition games next summer."

Foss expected a close game Sunday. But it took the Chargers less than five minutes of the first quarter to score enough points to win.

What happened was that Boston's defense started with a red dog and wound up with a red face.

The Patriots led the league in total defense this season and had great success with the red dog or blitz rush. On a sloppy field in Boston, the Patriots contained Lincoln and Charger half-back Paul Lowe and lost to San Diego by a single point, 7-6.

But the field was dry Sunday and the Chargers quickly neutralized the blitz by using pitch-outs and lob passes to the outside. Several times the Boston rushers broke through the line beautifully, then discovered that the play was not in front of them but to the outside, where the Patriots had nobody waiting.

On such a play Lincoln took a pitchout from quarterback Tobin Rote and ran 67 yards for the second San Diego touchdown. The Chargers had the game won then, with 10-48 to play in the first period.

San Diego's defense held Boston to 75 yards rushing and to 186 yards passing. The Charger offense meanwhile, gained 318 yards rushing and 292 passing.

There is no difference between a checkerboard and a chessboard.

All-America Will Coach Razorbacks

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Johnny Majors, a former All-America tailback for Tennessee, will join the University of Arkansas coaching staff, Coach Frank Broyles announced Saturday.

Majors, 28, has been defensive secondary coach at Mississippi State. He replaces Doug Dickey, who left Arkansas to take over head coach duties at Tennessee.

Broyles said "Johnny is a bright, young, hard-working coach, the kind we're always looking for."

Majors, who gained his All-America recognition with the 1956 Volunteer team that went 10-0, said he has always been impressed by the type of football played at Arkansas. He said he was "very much impressed with coach Broyles and his staff—and the facilities."

Bill Pace, formerly defensive secondary coach at Arkansas, will take over the offensive backfield coach vacancy left by Dickey.

Cool Cats Clean Up Dirt Dobbers

In Little League Basketball play Saturday morning at Jones Field House the Cool Cats dropped in 6 quick points in the last two minutes to outscore the Dirt Dobbers 20 to 16.

There was seldom more than two points difference in the score throughout the game until the Cool Cats hit three quick ones in the fading moments. Terry Hair had 12 points for the winners, Randy O'steen hit for 4 and Terry Turner and Randy Wright had 2 each. Scoring for the Dirt Dobbers were Johnny Young with 9, Steve Murphy with 4, Bobby Watson with 2 and Doug Cross with 1.

In the second game, the B-Diddles stopped the Hot Rods to the tune of 12 to 4. Both teams were playing without the benefit of any returning starters from last year so therefore, the low score. Those baskets are mighty tall to a 4th or 5th grader. Ronnie Brown and Freddy McMannus led the winners with 4 each, with J. Laughard and C. Laughard rounding out the scoring with 2 each. Charles Ratliff and Richard Calhoun had 2 each for the Hot Rods.

Greene Co. Wins Cage Tourney

JONESBORO Ark. (AP)—A tall Greene County Tech squad posted a 58-44 victory over Monette Saturday night to win the Class A Division title in the Northeast Arkansas Invitational Basketball Tournament. And a tough defensive team from Dyess beat Melbourne 63-35 for the Class B title.

Tech's shortest starter was 6-foot-2 and Monette's tallest is 6-foot-1. Monette grabbed a brief lead in the second quarter, but Tech rallied quickly for a lead that held.

Top scorers for Tech were Larry Adams and Charles Murray with 18. Joe Masner led Monette with 13.

Dyess used quick-handed defense in moving to its second straight B division title at the NEA tourney, and led 28-15 at halftime. Center Albert Brown led Dyess with 17 points. Jerry Jeffrey led Melbourne with 15.

Carry Back Now Sire of a Daughter

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The big news in racing over the weekend wasn't on the track—it was the arrival of the first foal by Carry Back.

The blessed event was sure to warm the hearts of racing fans as another step in the saga of the poor, little colt who won fame and fortune on the turf in the best Horatio Alger tradition.

Carry Back's first foal is a dark bay filly out of Stefanne. She arrived Sunday night at 7:35 in the same stall at the Ocala, Fla., Stud Farm where her daddy was born in 1959.

John S. Dolan, Cincinnati sportsman and breeder who owns the foal, said he would ask the Jockey Club to register her name as Back To Back.

Carry Back, sired by Saggy out of the little known mare Joppy, was regarded as an unfashionable colt when he was born, but he became an equine millionaire and thrilled racing fans with his come-from-behind finishes that won the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness in 1961 and made him the best of the four-year-olds in 1962.

During the past decade, annual sales of pianos rose from 155,000 to 208,000, according to a report.

Arkansas State Visits Mississippi

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas State's Indians travel to Cleveland, Miss., tonight where they seek their sixth basketball victory of the season, at the expense of Delta State.

The Indians gained the 5-3 mark Saturday downing Christian Brothers College of Memphis 81-67.

Jerry Rook led A-State with 30 points against CBC.

The Indians built up a 31-3 halftime margin. CBC didn't hit a field goal until only 6:12 was left in the first half. Al Cash led CBC with 29 points.

Patterson Hopes for Comeback

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Former world heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson today enters a road which he hopes will lead to another chance at the world heavyweight boxing title.

Patterson, who lost his title to Sonny Liston, has prepared carefully for the match against Italian heavyweight champion Sante Amonti. He has spent some weeks in the famous Swedish sports training resort of Valadalen far north where he did his roadwork, plodding through deep snow, and even went skiing for the first time of his life.

Edwin Ahlqvist is promoting the boxing gala which will start at 11 a.m. EST. He reports a sellout but is, as usual, very tight-lipped about estimated income from movie- and television rights.

Amonti, who last month fought more than 300 sparring rounds, says he is in top shape and eager to meet the ex-world champ.

Patterson, who is very popular in this country although he whipped Sweden's Ingemar Johansson twice, also says he is ready for the match.

"I feel at home here. All the Swedes are very kind and wishing me good luck. I have got more than 4,100 fan letters from Swedes and would like to fight my next bout here too."

Green Bay Over Browns in Pro Game

By BEN FUNK

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The heralded "battle of the fullbacks" turned instead into a fight for control of the air when Bart Starr passed Green Bay to a 40-23 victory over Cleveland in the Pro Playoff Bowl game Sunday.

Starr rattled the Browns with three first-half touchdowns passes, breaking the record for the four-year-old series and sweeping the Packers into a big early lead.

The margin was too big for Cleveland's quarterback Frank Ryan to overcome, but he connected with 18 aerial shots for 10 yards to break the lame's mark for completions and total yardage.

During this aerial bombardment, Jim Brown of the Browns and Jim Taylor of the Packers, the No. 1 and No. 2 ground gainers of the National Football League, were called upon to run the ball only 25 times between them.

Brown gained 56 yards and Taylor 44. Both were overshadowed by Earl Gros of the Packers who netted 80 yards in 11 carries for a 7.3 average, the best of the game.

Starr, voted the day's outstanding player, hit Tom Moore with a touchdown pass that went for 99 yards to break the series record, and connected with Ron Kramer on an 18-yard scoring throw in the first quarter.

The 99-yard play was launched after the Browns failed in four plays to score from the Packers' two.

Brown and Ernie Greene gained only one yard in four smashes at the Green Bay line. Then Starr, from his end zone threw to Moore who had worked his way into the clear and ran all the way untouched.

It was the Packers' first appearance in the Playoff Bowl, a consolation game between the runners-up of the NFL Eastern and Western Divisions.
